The Compulsory Purchase Association (CPA) is the foremost gathering of CPO practitioners, whose members come from a diverse range of professions, particularly lawyers, surveyors and planners.

The CPA was created in 2002 to bring together and channel the wealth of expertise on the subject of Compulsory Purchase and Compensation, and to promote technical expertise and best practice. It also campaigns for reform of the highly complex legislation that governs its practice.

This regional briefing provides an opportunity for local practitioners – both members and prospective members of the CPA, to socialise and exchange views on current and topical CPO issues.

Ashurst LLP have, once again, kindly agreed to sponsor this event which allows delegates to attend at no cost.
